

Question: Can the exchanging of marital vows suffice for   al lah?

Answer: The Ulam  have unequivocally stated that when a man gives he's wife three   al qs at one time or in one sitting, then it will be   ar m for him to get married to her for a second time until she does not get married to someone else first. Intercourse is a pre-requisite for this second marriage, therefore the mere exchanging of marital vows will not be sufficient. In this case, there is no other option besides   al lah.
