Disregard for the Messenger's (Sallallahu Alayhi Wasallam) Warnings

Be as it may, it is not my intention to collect and quote all the Ahaadeeth and stories dealing with this topic. Numerous references are found in the compilations of Ahaadeeth. Rasulullah (Sallallahu Alayhi Wasallam) People continue to cry about their misfortune while hoping for good reward, but they pay no heed to the warnings. Yes indeed we are just like the sick man who suffers from diarrhoea. While having a running stomach, he does not stop eating. It is quite amazing to note that nowadays when an ordinary simple doctor, even a non-believer, says so. But here in Islam the truthful and Holy Rasul of Allah (Sallallahu Alayhi Wasallam) informs his people of the consequences. If today the government passes a proclamation stating that such-and-such statements are forbidden and punishable. But the Lord of the world, King of Kings -under whose control fall all governments and kings -gives a Quranic warning. In the Hadeeth-e-Qudsi He proclaims that bearing enmity against His saintly friends is as being tantamount to bearing enmity against Him. But how many are there whose consciences trouble them as to what they are busy doing? How many are there who are heedless of the warnings? And if, we, instead of discarding our evil ways, consider that those very ways are ways of success or progress, then we are in a state of denial. "O morning breeze all this has been brought about by you."
